

Financial Services Guide

Everything you need to know about your adviser and the advice they can provide

In today's fast changing and complex financial environment, getting sound financial advice is critical. To achieve maximum value, that advice should come from someone who offers client-focused solutions and expertise. Your adviser is required to provide quality advice that is in your best interests. Whether you are looking for once-off financial advice or want to develop a lifetime advice relationship, your adviser can help you.

The purpose of this Financial Services Guide is to provide you with important information before a financial service is provided to you, so you can make an informed decision about using our services. It contains information about:

- Your adviser
- Who is ClearView Financial Advice
- What will your adviser do

ClearView and your adviser

Declaration of lack of independence

ClearView Financial Advice Pty Limited is owned by ClearView Wealth Limited (ACN 106 248 248) which is an ASX listed entity. We are required to inform you that ClearView Wealth is the provider of a number of products. ClearView Wealth and its related companies may receive fees and/or a premium if you purchase their financial products. ClearView and your adviser may receive commission based on your premium for the duration of time you hold an insurance policy, fees based on the volume of assets under advice and gifts and other non-monetary benefits. For these reasons, we are not independent, impartial or unbiased.

As your advisers we are required to act in your best interest and will only recommend any associated products if we believe they will meet your needs. We are able to use products from a wide approved product list which includes non-ClearView products and we are bound by the FASEA Code of Ethics Standards in giving advice to you.

We choose to be part of a larger group to enable us to provide better support and services to our clients.

What will your adviser do?

If you receive personal advice from your adviser, you will be provided with a personalised 'advice document' – i.e. a Statement of Advice (SoA) or Record of Advice (RoA), which will include the following:

- Summary of your current situation – where you are now
- Your goals and objectives – where you want to be
- Recommendations – a plan to assist you getting there
- Information – about any costs such as product costs, fees, commissions or other charges payable and any associations with financial product issuers or other parties.

If your adviser recommends a particular investment or insurance product to you, they will provide you with the relevant product brochures such as Product Disclosure Statements (PDS) and/or Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) guides. The PDS / IDPS will give you all necessary information to enable you to make an informed decision about your investment or whether to acquire a financial product, including information about the key benefits, risks and costs associated with the product. We encourage you to read these documents carefully and ask your adviser any questions that you might have.

You are under no obligation to act on your adviser's advice, but if you do decide to follow their recommendations, they will help you complete the necessary documents to get your financial strategy underway.

What does your adviser expect from you?

To enable your adviser to provide you with appropriate advice, you need to provide them with:

- Complete and accurate information about your personal objectives, financial situation and needs
- Information about any changes to your situation or contact details.

You may elect not to provide your adviser with certain information, but if you do, you will need to consider the appropriateness of any advice provided to you before you act upon the advice. You should carefully read any warnings contained in your advice document.

Before your adviser provides you with advice, you will need to agree to the type and scope of advice to be provided, usually in the 'Fact Find' document or a service agreement. If you subsequently decide to act on their advice, you will need to provide your consent to proceed with the advice. This usually means 'signing' a document called an 'Authority to Proceed' to confirm that you understand both the advice you have received and the benefits, risks and costs associated with the products or services recommended to you.

What fees are paid to your adviser?

ClearView initially receives all fees received from clients and distributes them to financial advisers and their practices after our Licensee fees and other expenses. The Licensee fee covers compliance, technology, research, technical, business development and operational support. This Licensee fee is paid by your adviser to ClearView and is not an additional fee to you.

What fees will your adviser charge?

All fees and charges will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services. Any remuneration paid to ClearView, or your adviser for advice, or by a product provider that relates to an individual financial product recommendation will be disclosed in the advice document provided to you. Unless otherwise noted, all fees are inclusive of GST.

A fee disclosure statement will be given to you each year if you choose to enter into an ongoing fee arrangement with your adviser.

The level of fees will depend on complexity of the advice required and will always be agreed with you prior to proceeding.

Generally, advisers either charge a flat fee or percentage-based fee. Your adviser may charge you and receive the following:

Initial advice fees	Range of fees (inclusive of GST)		Examples
These are fees paid by you for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research into your existing situation including your current financial products (within the agreed scope) • Preparation of a strategy and research into appropriate recommended products • Presentation of advice and recommendations to you in an advice document such as a Statement of Advice. 	Flat fee	Up to $30,000	Your adviser may charge you an agreed fee of $1,500.
	Percentage based fee of your investment account balance	Up to 5%	Your adviser may charge you an agreed fee of 1.5% of your $120,000 investment account balance. The initial advice fee will be $1,800.
Advisers may also charge an additional implementation fee to assist with implementing the advice.
Ongoing advice/service fees	Range of fees (inclusive of GST)		Examples
These are fees paid by you for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The provision of ongoing advice on your portfolio/ strategy to ensure that it remains appropriate to your needs and circumstances. • Ongoing adviser service fees may be indexed to inflation. • Generally, ongoing fees are calculated and payable on a monthly or quarterly basis. 	Flat fee	Up to $30,000	Your adviser may charge you an agreed fee of $2,500 p.a.
	Percentage based fee of your investment account balance	Up to 2.5%	Your adviser may charge you an agreed ongoing service fee of 0.8%. If your investment account balance is $280,000 the ongoing service fee will be $2,240 that year.
Commissions	Range of commission (Inclusive of GST)		Examples
These payments are made by the product providers in the form of initial and/or ongoing commissions and are not an additional cost to you. Generally, insurance product providers pay commission. Note that where commissions are the same for initial upfront and ongoing annual commission (i.e. level), the commission caps do not apply. For insurance policies entered into prior to 1 January 2020, your adviser may receive commissions higher than disclosed here. Please refer to the advice document provided for the amount of commission received on these policies.	First year	66% of the premium amount	If your premium is $1,000 p.a., your adviser would receive $660 up front.
	Subsequent Years	22% of the premium amount	If your premium is $1,000 p.a., your adviser would receive $220 p.a.

Also, if your adviser provides you with a further advice document such as a SoA or RoA (which may arise depending on the complexity of the advice and the services provided), other fees may be payable. Any such fees and method of payment will be agreed in writing between you and your adviser and may include up-front, ad hoc, execution only service fees, implementation or ongoing fees, or a combination.

Fees can be deducted from your product or can be invoiced directly to you via a combination of methods. You have the option to pay the fees by:

- Credit card: if a fee is paid by credit card, this option will attract a variable service charge that is subject to change at any time without notice by the bank. The latest service fee is available on the bank's website.
- Direct debit
- Direct credit
- Cheque or
- A deduction from your superannuation or investment product.

Superannuation and investment products

Your adviser may receive adviser service fees, or ongoing fees for the advice and services provided to you. Investment and superannuation product providers generally deduct their costs from the investments. Some products or platforms have additional fees.

Life insurance products

Your adviser may receive an upfront commission and an ongoing commission based on your premium for the duration of time you hold a policy. These commission payments are made by the relevant product issuers and are not an additional cost to you. Advisers may also charge initial and ongoing adviser services fees. Insurers can deduct premiums directly from you or from your superannuation account balance.

What other payments and benefits may ClearView and your adviser receive?

Sometimes in the process of providing advice and other financial services, ClearView or your adviser may receive benefits from product providers such as sponsorship of events, subsidised educational conferences or preferred product rates.

Non-monetary benefits

These benefits are discretionary in nature and relate to future events. It is therefore not possible to provide an estimated dollar value on these benefits at this point in time. Advisers may receive benefits from associated ClearView companies or product providers such as:

- Educational conferences and seminars
- IT software or support
- Non-monetary benefits such as business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, or other minor benefits. However, these benefits cannot be accepted on a frequent or regular basis or over the value of $300.

Each adviser must keep a register of benefits received. If you would like to see a copy of our registers, you can contact us or your adviser directly.

Your adviser may also hold shares in ClearView Wealth Limited (ACN 106 248 248) through an arrangement with ClearView or by purchasing them separately through the ASX. Our advisers or their associated companies and trusts may receive dividends in respect of these shares.

How will I know what is payable?

Details of all initial and ongoing advice fees and commissions will be disclosed to you in dollar amounts in the advice document provided by your financial adviser. You will receive the advice document before your financial adviser acts on your instructions unless you instruct them to act immediately, in which case all amounts payable will be disclosed to you verbally at the time that advice is provided.

Will anyone be paid for referring me to my adviser?

If someone has referred you to us, ClearView or your adviser may pay a fee or commission in relation to that referral. ClearView may pay a referral fee to a referral partner which may range from 0% to 50% of the initial and/or ongoing fees or commissions. Where a referral fee is paid, details will be provided to you in your advice document.

Does ClearView have any relationships or associations with financial product issuers?

ClearView Group

ClearView is a wholly owned subsidiary of ClearView Wealth Limited (ACN 106 248 248) which is an ASX listed entity.
